Request in administrative regime – according to constitution’s article 63 and article 241 of the administrative proceedings code, everybody has a right to submit proposal in public interest to the institution as regards its tasks. It should contain recommendation how the activities of the institution should be improved. The institution is obliged to answer in 30 days. The request can also be submitted to include some position in the budget of the institution.

Local initiative is a specific type of request based on the article 241 of the administrative proceeding code. It allows informal groups of citizens to ask for funding of their specific initiative. It is however important that citizens bring their own contribution, e.g. their work. Citizens may promise to clean a park but they need equipment from local authorities.
